

Not All Fakes Are This Easy To Spot

Beware of NewLook™ Copycat Products...

In 1989, NewLook became the first company ever to create a solid color concrete staining system that delivered truly opaque and vibrant colors. This system has stood the test of time - with nearly 20 years of satisfied customers.

In the past few years, we have watched our competitors attempt to copy our system – with mixed results.

We have received many calls from contractors, dealers and homeowners who have experienced poor results with these copycat products... many of which ended up being recalled.

We produced the video at the link below to clarify the issue, and tell our side of the story...
